

44 Trips Around The Sun

Life has brought me here to this place.
By the fence, the tree, so far from grace.
Slow slide falling there's no more dreams.
September morn and these shit ass schemes.

Daddy, don't be afraid, I've done all I can do.
It will be painless, I will be renewed.
My heart is empty, there's no more tears.
You see all that's in me is 44 years.

Just be yourself they would say.
There's a fruitlessness in all who pray.
It's hard not knowing which one is me.
When the star of the show is BPD.

Daddy, don't be afraid, I've done all I can do.
It will be painless, I will be renewed.
My heart is empty, there's no more tears.
All that's in me is 44 years.
