

You Were Just Here

Where are you?
Where did you go?
You were just here.
Little did I know.

Simple as that.
Father and son.
You were just here.
In for the long run.

Who's the real me?
Just an average guy.
Uncomplicated,
Like a clear blue sky.

Feels like rain,
After the heat.
You were just here,
On endless repeat.

One last word,
When the crickets sing.
You were just here,
With a broken wing.

Who's the real me?
Just an average guy.
Uncomplicated,
Like a clear blue sky.
