

I'll Be Alright

Stories show the way
It's just another day, in the spotlight
Making new from old
It's like a crash controlled, I'll be alright

I can justify my way
Across the dark array, to the bright light
Some others might have wings
Or manipulating strings, but I'll be alright

I'll be alright, I can stand straight again upright
I understand, just where to begin the fight
I'll be alright, I can map my way home it's in sight
Don't you see it too I've got nothing to lose tonight

Early morning miles
Mountaineering trials, up at first light
Everything is new
Cerulean blue, I'll be alright

The floating point is here
Nearly crystal clear, in the daylight
Just before the dawn
I was dreaming you were gone, but I'll be alright

I'll be alright, I can stand straight again upright
I understand, just where to begin the fight
I'll be alright, I can map my way home it's in sight
Don't you see it too I've got nothing to lose tonight

21 April 2021

Roger N. Renfro